The group Kazual has performed at over 150 shows over the last year which consists of colleges, universities, theaters, performance arts centers, and fairs and festivals. Their national spotlights include NBC's "America's Got Talent", The Maury Povich show's "Next Big Superstars of Tomorrow", BET, MTV, and wins on New York's legendary Showtime at the Apollo stage. They have won a Georgia Music Award for Best R&B group. Kazual has opened in the past for Beyonce, Nelly, most recently for country superstar Randy Houser, and many more industry names. Three brothers and a cousin make this family group. Kazual's is known for their smooth acapella harmonies. In addition to acapella, they dance as well to tracked music. Kazual performs an eclectic mix of old school, top 40, and originals which some people say they love most of all. What people love about Kazual the most is their show is very diverse covering all genres of music for all people and yes including country and for all age groups. At our shows the child, parent, and grandparents come up to thank them.
